

Getting the Deal Through publishes 17th edition of Corporate Governance

Getting the Deal Through is delighted to publish the 2018 edition of Corporate Governance, which is available in print, as an e-book, and online.

A summary of the pertinent aspects of company law and corporate governance practices worldwide, provided by local experts and touching upon: sources of governance rules and practice, government agencies and shareholder activist groups, rights of shareholders, voting rights and requirements, shareholders' duties and liability, anti-takeover devices, restricted stocks and corporate control, compulsory share repurchase rules, board structures, legal duties of the board, executive and non-executive directors, enforcement actions against directors, standards of care and prudence, remuneration and disclosure and reporting requirements.

Every effort has been made to cover all matters of concern to readers. However, specific legal advice should always be sought from experienced local advisers.

Getting the Deal Through gratefully acknowledges the efforts of all the contributors to this volume, who were chosen for their recognised expertise. We also extend special thanks to the contributing editor, Holly J Gregory of Sidley Austin LLP for her continued assistance with this volume.
